County Superior Court

#MeToo! Revisiting Sexual Harassment in the Post-Weinstein Era

Donald P. Johnsen, Esq.

Shareholder, Gallagher & Kennedy, PA

For the past year, courtesy of Harvey Weinstein, et al., America has been getting an extended public lesson in what constitutes sexual harassment in the workplace. Or has it? This session will refresh participants on the basic legal concepts in workplace harassment, and will discuss the wide gap between the public's perception of the issue and the way that courts actually deal with such claims.

Water Safe? Liability Associated with Residential and Commercial Swimming Pools

Maria Bella, AFOIT, CPOI, LGI

Aquatics & Drowning Expert

This presentation will cover basic personal liability issues related to homeowners who have a pool & how to be safe against liability from injured parties at their residence. She will also address liability issues related to commercial (public or otherwise) pools, including standards for supervision, slip/fall surfaces, drowning, disease contaminants, etc. in terms of safety against liability for injured parties/guests.

"The speakers were the best of any of the APA annual seminars I've attended."

"Organized, well thought out. Every session was valuable."

"The speakers, vendors, food and snacks, prizes—all of it was great!"

Updates Regarding Arizona's Medical Marijuana Act

Sonia Martinez, Esq.

Law Office of Sonia Martinez

This legal education program will introduce you to the hot topic litigation issues associated with Arizona's Medical Marijuana Act and Program. You will get updates regarding how this program is affecting legal issues in the areas of criminal law, civil law, employment, and housing. You will also learn about legislation and other issues affecting the program and medical marijuana industry in Arizona.

It's Not Just Grandpa—Recognizing Abuse and Neglect Claims for Vulnerable Adults

Teri Rowe, Esq.

Partner, Miller Weber Kory LLP

Abuse and neglect cases are not just for the elderly. Any adult physically or mentally unable to protect themselves from harm are subject to abuse or neglect. While these cases are often presented by the elderly in nursing homes, abuse can occur from victims recovering from accident injuries, in hospitals, group homes, and even jail. This presentation will address the ins and outs of representing vulnerable adults for abuse claims.

First Amendment Issues from the Trenches

Brunn "Beau" Roysden, Esq.

*Deputy Chief of the Civil Litigation Division
Arizona Attorney General's Office*

This presentation covers two cases of interest involving novel First Amendment questions. The first case is Arizona Attorneys for Criminal Justice v. Ducey, which challenges a provision in Arizona's victim's rights laws that requires criminal defense attorneys, investigators, and defendants to initiate contact with victims through prosecutors' offices. Several defense attorneys have challenged this twenty-five year old law as violating their personal First Amendment rights to speak with crime victims directly. The second case is Jordahl v. Brnovich, in which an attorney is challenging a recent Arizona law that requires all State and local government contractors to certify that they are not engaged in a boycott of Israel. The plaintiff contends that boycotts are protected First Amendment activity, and the state law should be declared unconstitutional. A similar challenge was recently filed in Kansas. Mr. Roysden will also explore the paralegal's role when assisting with pursuing or defending First Amendment issues. As time permits, other cases will be discussed and there will be time for questions and answers regarding litigating First Amendment issues involving state and local government.

Shooting Your Mouth Off About the Second Amendment

Robert J. McWhirter, Esq.

The Law Offices of Robert J. McWhirter

Guns. No matter how pacifist we boys (and girls) later become, we all played with guns. Guns are integral to the American myth – from the western to the cop. But how does the myth of the gun in America compare to the Second Amendment's history? How does and should this history influence the law? This presentation discusses the Second Amendment's history and how it fits with American culture. What did the Framers really mean? What was the history they knew? Who did they intend to have guns? Did they intend an individual or collective right? This is the Second Amendment explained outside the rhetoric.
